Neon Store Wins Award For Courtesy

John M. Morgan

John M. Morgan and the entire staff of the A&P Food Stores' supermarket at Neon have won an honor store award in the quarterly competition among stores of A&P's Louisville unit.

The Neon store was one of seven in the Louisville unit named as honor stores in the contest based on courtesy and service, good housekeeping, general store operation and sales results.

Morgan and all employees of the store will receive individual awards.

"This contest was conceived as a means of providing additional services and courtesies to our customers," said Vice President Byron Jay of the Louisville unit. "Comments we have received from both customers and employees lead us to believe the contest has been mutually beneficial."

Four Letcher County Students Named To 'Who's Who'

Four Letcher County college students have been named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

They include Bobby Breeding, a student at Morehead State College, and Bert Coates Bach and Arthur Herman Looney, both students at Eastern Kentucky State College. Announcement was made earlier of the selection of Miss Loretta Mayes, Blackey, also a student at Eastern, to "Who's Who."

Breeding is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Breeding of Whitesburg. He is majoring in physical education and is a member of the agriculture club. He was selected by his fellow students for his outstanding achievements as a student at Morehead.

Bach is a son of Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Bach of Whitesburg. He is editor-in-chief of the Eastern Progress, the college newspaper, this year. He has taken part in other activities, including Canterbury Club, World Affairs Club, Men's Dormitory Council, Little Theater Club, Omicron Alpha Kappa, Kappa Iota Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, and Letcher County Club.

Looney is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Lee Looney, Linefork. At Eastern he has taken part in the Letcher County Club, Sigma Tau Pi and has worked on the Milestone, the school yearbook.

At Eastern, students are named to Who's Who by a student-faculty committee. They are chosen on the basis of scholastic standing, contribution to campus activities and future promise to society.

Annual Campaign For Polio Now Under Way In County

Ferdinand Moore of Whitesburg is heading the 1958 March of Dimes now in progress in Letcher County.

The drive will extend through the month of February, Moore said, adding that the need for money is as great as ever, despite development of the Salk vaccine to prevent polio.

The Letcher County polio chapter is paying the medical bills of 22 children who contacted polio before the vaccine was developed, Moore explained. Many still are under active treatment and only last week one of the youngsters underwent major surgery, he added.

Letcher county fell far short of raising enough money to pay for the medical care of its polio victims last year, and had to have a grant of $2,000 from the National Foundation in order to pay the doctor and hospital bills, Moore explained.

Civic groups and public-spirited individuals throughout the county have agreed to help out in the fund-raising activities.

The American Legion at Neon plans to hold a road block for polio Saturday, with Beady Phillips in charge. The Whitesburg VFW also is making plans for a road block in the Whitesburg area.

Plans also are being made for a Mothers' March for Polio in Neon, Fleming, Jenkins and Whitesburg. Mrs. Durward Banks and the Neon homemakers are making plans for the march at Neon.

Moore said the Whitesburg Woman's Club will stage the Mothers' March in the Whitesburg area, with Mrs. Gordon

Lewis in charge, while the Fleming homemakers will handle the march at Fleming.

He said he hopes arrangements can be made for the Eastern Star to handle the march at Jenkins.

Although final plans have not been worked out, Moore said he is hopeful that the march can be held the same night in all four towns, with February 13th set as the tentative date.

One novel feature of the drive centers around the county's various 4-H Clubs. County agent Bob Pike has agreed to ask the clubs to stage a 4-H March for Polio in rural areas, similar to the Mothers' March in the towns.

Moore said Burt Fields, C. V. Snapp and Dave Craft are helping with the campaign in the Jenkins area, while Miss Martha Jane Potter and Roy Resor are helping at Fleming. He also said Curt Collier at Eolia and Curt Asher at Letcher are helping, as are Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Mayes at Letcher.

Mr. and Mrs. James Combs, Jr., at Ison, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craft, Mayking, and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Craft, at Mayking, also are playing an active role in the campaign. All three couples are parents of children with polio.

Moore said that every effort is being made to organize the campaign so that everyone in the county will have a chance to contribute. But he said that persons who are not contacted can make a contribution by mailing their check or money to The March of Dimes, Box 330, Whitesburg, Ky.

Miss Owens Homemaker of Tomorrow

Sylvia Owens

Sylvia Owens of Partridge is winner of the "Homemaker of Tomorrow" contest at Whitesburg High School.

She is a daughter of Riley Owens. A senior student, she is first vice president of Future Homemakers of America.

Miss Owens won the contest by receiving the highest score on a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes given Dec. 3 to girls in the graduating class. Her examination paper will be entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She will receive an award pin. The contest is conducted each year by the Betty Crocker division of General Mills.

Clubs Must Help Show People Right Way To Live, Tanner Says

Service clubs, civic organizations and churches have a duty to help set forth the principles of better living, the Rev. Charles Tanner, pastor of the Whitesburg Methodist Church, told members of the Whitesburg Lions Club at their meeting last week.

They must seek to bring God and man together through rendering services to society, Mr. Tanner said. When man is integrated as an individual with God, then the world is also put together, he added.

He gave as an example a little girl who told her father how she put a jigsaw puzzle of the world together: "When I put the picture of the man on the back of the puzzle together, then I have put the world together."

Everything today is conducive to the betterment of mankind, but frequently we learn to use the conveniences at too late an hour, Mr. Tanner commented.

"Today we are living in a world of change. Man is accomplishing many things which a few years ago were considered impossible. Someone has called ours 'the age of fallen barriers.' We have at our fingertips the greatest advance of power ever known to man. This can readily be seen by a quick glance at our aircraft and automobile industries.

"The thing many of us are wondering is, how well do we use these advances? Do we use our autos to satisfy that innate feeling of superiority, by getting on the highway to win a race of power, and, in doing so, forget all the common courtesies which are a part of our (Cont'd on Classified Page)

Annexation Will Save Money For Property Owner, Mayor Says

Three Letcher Students Make Honor List

One hundred and ten students have been named to the Honor Roll for the Fall Quarter at Lincoln Memorial University. To be eligible for this honor, a student must achieve an average grade of "B" with no grade less than a "C."

Among those listed are James Douglas Polly, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Blaine Polly, and Thomas Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bowen, both of Whitesburg; and Dorothy L. Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Franklin of McRoberts.

Col. Adams Heads Benning Personnel

Fort Benning, Ga.—Col. Marcus W. Adams of Whitesburg, Ky., has assumed the duties of chief of the Personnel Group of the U. S. Army Infantry School's Staff Department at Fort Benning. He succeeds Col. Paul J. Jarrett of Honolulu, T. H., who has been named controller of the U. S. Army Infantry Center. Col. Adams was U. S. Army adviser to I Corps of the Imperial Iranian Army from August, 1956, until his assignment to The Infantry School. The 46-year-old officer attended Centre College in Danville, Ky., before entering active Army duty in September, 1940. He is married to the former Lillian McDonald of Danville.

Annexation will save money for most property owners whose land is taken into the city.

That's the word from Mayor Arthur T. Banks of Whitesburg, who today issued a statement concerning a proposal now before the city council to annex property from the mouth of Sandlick to the junction.

Banks said he would like to offer some facts about annexation "to clear up some misstatements, misinformation and false propaganda" now going around town.

He gave examples to show that fire insurance savings alone will more than pay the city property taxes and will in fact result in an actual money savings each year to property owners who are taken into the city. In addition, he pointed out, annexed residents will benefit from added police protection, street lights and other city services.

The city has not yet accomplished annexation. It has passed an ordinance authorizing employment of an engineer to survey the area from Sandlick to the junction with an eye toward annexing the property between the two points. The annexation would more or less double the population of Whitesburg.

Here is the text of Mayor Banks' statement:

"In an effort to clear up some misstatements, misinformation and false propaganda that is going around about the proposed annexation I would like to offer the following facts:

"It is being told:

"That Whitesburg tax rate is $1.50 per hundred. This is false. The property tax rate is 75 cents and the sinking fund tax on the City Hall bonds is 16 cents making a total of 91 cents per hundred. This rate can never go any higher under state law.

"That the property owners being annexed will have to pay the present sewer fee. This is not true. Present property owners in the city limits do not pay the sewer charge unless they are within the legal limit of the sewer and can benefit from it.

"That the Whitesburg Fire Department is compelled to answer a call within one mile of the city limits. The truth is that the fire department is paid solely by the taxpayers of the Town of Whitesburg and their only obligation is to the citizens of Whitesburg. They can be ordered at any time to cease making any runs outside the corporation. Any runs made outside the city limits are made as a favor. The small charge made for the run does not cover the expense of making it and many times it is not collected."

"That the insurance rate just outside the city limits is the same as that within the city. Don't you believe it. The city rate with our Fire department is 24 cents a hundred. The same type property, just across the line, is rated at 62 cents per hundred. If any of our good friends are buying insurance outside the city at less than 62 cents they will find that the rate will go up just as soon as the Whitesburg Fire Department is ordered to stay within city limits.

"The insurance saving alone will more than pay the city property tax. This is absolutely true. As an example—There is one piece of property in the proposed annexation zone that I have been told is insured for $8,000 at $6.20 per thousand. This man is paying $49.60 per year for his insurance. If the property is annexed, the fire rate will drop to $2.40 per thousand or a total of $19.20. That's a saving of $30.40 per year on his insurance. Now let's look at what his city tax on the property would be. This property is listed for tax purposes at $2,150 for county tax and it certainly would not be listed any higher in the city. At the town rate of 91 cents his city tax would amount to $19.75. Deduct this amount from his saving on insurance, and he has a net saving of $10.83 per year. We would suggest that you use this same table on your property and determine what your saving will be."

"We are sure that if every citizen in the proposed annexation area will just think and weigh the advantages, there will be a different feeling toward the annexation.

"This thing is certainly not a one way proposition. Whitesburg will benefit from the annexation. Whitesburg needs the good people on the outside fringe area. It will certainly increase all the property value. A town of 3,000 people certainly will have a better chance of attracting industry than a town of 1,500.

"The people need the services Whitesburg has to offer—Police protection in addition to the fire protection. Street lighting is worth more as burglary protection than all the guns you can buy. We would suggest that you people outside the city limits look outside tonight and observe just how dark it is around your homes and business places. Compare your neighborhood with Whitesburg in the way it looks after dark.

"It will certainly be worth a great deal to have a police patrol make regular trips through your section and to have officers on call 24 hours a day.

"It is certainly worth the effort to sit down together and reason this matter out. Find out the advantages and savings instead of listening to every rumor that is floating around. Figure out for yourself just how much it will be worth to you and we are sure that you will see a different picture of the annexation proposal." Banks concluded.

Whitesburg And Jenkins Continue Winning Ways

By R. Percy Elkins

The Whitesburg Yellowjackets and Jenkins Cavaliers continued their comebacks with three and two wins respectively. Elsewhere Fleming bounced back from Whitesburg's defeat to humble Elkhorn City 93 to 33 and Dunham dropped Kingdom Come 66 to 36.

The Yellowjackets revenged an earlier one point loss to Carr Creek by edging the Indians 57 to 56 at Carr Creek. Stanly Branson and Darrel Stidham paced the Jacket attack with sixteen and fifteen points.

Jenkins captured their sixth and seventh victories in eight games at the expense of Feds Creek High. Tuesday the Green Team rolled up an 87 to 69 score at home and then nipped the Pike Countians 76 to 75 Friday night.

Jimmy Tolliver hit 24 points and Emory Smallwood registered 23 to give the Cavaliers their 18 point margin Tuesday.

The Cougars played much better at home where they led Jenkins half the game and held a lead of three points with only one minute in the ball game. Nick Dann, who tallied 24 points, sank a basket with seconds remaining to give Jenkins its seventh victory of the season.

Osley Sets Mark

One of the most unusual games I've seen was played at Fleming Saturday night. The visiting Elkhorn City Cougars played Fleming a very good game for two quarters only to go cold in the last half and lose to the Pirates by 60 points.

The Cougars failed to score a single point in the third period while the "red hot" Pirates rolled up 32. Two and one-half minutes had elapsed in the fourth quarter before the Cougars were able to add to their score. The drought continued throughout the final frame however, and Elkhorn suffered its worst defeat in years. Guard Ross Chaney led the Pirates assault with 29 points.

Johanny Osley sank 14 field goals and four free tosses to give him 32 points and a new record for the Jenkins Field House. Osley led his team to its second win over Kingdom Come, this time the Blue Devils toppled the Wildcats 66 to 36.

Dunham took the lead early in the first quarter and were never seriously threatened as the Blue Devils played their finest game of the season. Motley registered ten points for Dunham and Smith, who thrilled the crowd with a 52 foot set shot in the final second, collected nine points for the Devils. Kingdom Come's Don Coots played an outstanding game for the losers as he tallied 17 points.

In other action Whitesburg dropped M. C. Napier 28 to 12 in the season's lowest scoring game. The Perry Countians refused to play ball for two quarters and the resulting halftime score was six to four. Whitesburg forced Napier to play ball and came out with a 16 point margin.

Stidham and Blair led the abbreviated offense with nine and eight points respectively.

RED CROSS DESERVES DOLLARS

Just a year ago today Letcher County residents were reeling from the stunning blow of a flash flood.

Almost before we had time to realize what had happened, help in the form of Red Cross aid had arrived. The flood occurred on Tuesday, Jan. 29, and a Red Cross disaster worker arrived here from Ohio on Wednesday, Jan. 30. He began work immediately to provide food and clothing for persons whose homes had been hit by the floodwaters. Later several other disaster workers came to Whitesburg, and the Red Cross disaster team was here for about six weeks. During that time its members gave flood victims money to help replace their losses and assisted in any other way they could. The Red Cross spent thousands of dollars on flood relief in Letcher County alone; many thousands more went to our harder-hit neighbors in Perry, Pike and Floyd counties.

The Red Cross currently is conducting its annual drive for money in Letcher County. Its goal is $4,700, less than a fifth of what was spent here for flood relief last year. We think the Red Cross is reasonable in expecting Letcher Countians to come across with donations after seeing the actual benefits of the Red Cross disaster fund in operation.

In addition, the national Red Cross has said it will have to close the local office if the goal is not met here this year.

We do not know how well the campaign for funds is progressing; local officials said they have not an over-all report. We hope Letcher County residents will not forget what Red Cross did for them only a year ago today.

HELP STILL NEEDED

Twenty-two youngsters in Letcher County who have suffered the ravages of polio are looking to you for help.

For them, the Salk vaccine which prevents paralytic polio, came too late. They will spend the rest of their lives wearing braces, having physical therapy treatments, undergoing corrective operations, and being less active than their companions.

The aftermath of polio costs money. Braces must be changed periodically, and that's an expensive process. Any treatment requiring hospitalization is also expensive. Most of this treatment is paid for by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, what we know as "The March of Dimes." But the March of Dimes is really those who contribute their dimes and dollars to help polio victims—in short, the March of Dimes is you.

Last year's March of Dimes here didn't reach its goal, but the Letcher County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has gone ahead paying bills for the 18 Letcher County polio victims. It has been able to do that because the national headquarters of the March of Dimes was generous enough to advance money for care of polio victims here. The chapter is $2,000 in debt. It is hoping that you, the friends and neighbors of the polio victims, will help out by contributing all you can to the March of Dimes campaign now in progress.

SOMETHING WE TALK ABOUT—AND DO LITTLE ABOUT

The classroom teacher, generally speaking, is disappointed with the Governor's budget for education. A note of disappointment also is heard in a statement released this week by the Kentucky Education Association.

Mitchell Davis, president of KEA, sees the small increase asked for education during the next biennium as sufficient to provide some improvements in counties over the state but inadequate to hasten the day when desirable educational standards will be put into effect for all Kentucky boys and girls.

The average classroom teacher is disappointed because more money is budgeted for supervisors, school plant improvement, additional equipment and supplies but none to increase the basal salary of the teacher.

The problem of education is one that is easier to write about than to do something about. There is the state's Minimum Foundation program to be implemented, and the use of educational funds to do that cannot in due fairness be criticised. That program calls for more classrooms, fewer pupils per teacher, and, among other things, premium pay on teacher training and experience.

The weakness of the so-called Minimum Foundation Program is that it fails to increase basal teacher salaries. Its failure to raise the teacher's salary basically results in salaries being held below a living pay even after the teacher add degrees and years of experience. Thus Kentucky education continues to operate under insurmountable handicap as it needs more teachers and better teachers at a time when other states with the same needs offer them better teaching salaries and conditions.

By the same token, Kentucky has less with which to induce the better grade of students to enter the teaching profession.

This is talking about Kentucky education. To do something about it will require more money. Federal aid to education is apparently stymied except in the science field. Then Kentucky, if it is to meet competition for teachers and remain in the race, must have more money to meet teacher payrolls.

THE TIMES would like to see teacher salaries at a level which would attract the best minds to the teaching profession. It would like to see, too, enough such teachers that boards of education would have an opportunity to cull the list and hire the best and not have to continue the losing battle of trying to educate youngsters in classrooms over which preside incompetents and others whose thinking and living are foreign to precincts of the classroom.

After all, fine buildings and splendid equipment do not make a fine school. The teacher is the first great need there. —(The Floyd County Times)

Babson's Authentic Statement

BABSON DISCUSSES
WASHINGTON

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 30. It is not my place to discuss politics in this column. Most of us are Republicans or Democrats according to where we live or how we were trained as children. This means that the birth rate will largely be the deciding factor under a democracy.

Democracy and Economics

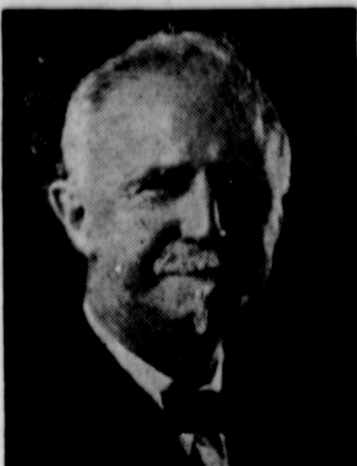

This further means that democracy, with everyone having a vote irrespective of character or education in government, is crazy and cannot long continue. There must be a shakedown sometime and a return to the republic which Washington, Franklin, and Hamilton established in 1788. We have drifted far away from our original ideals.

I am, however, allowed to discuss economics in this column. Let me start by saying that no one knows what will be the effect on business and investments of the "unemployment cushions" which have been devised to prevent another real depression.

Some Unanswered Questions

Will the insurance of bank deposits prevent a money panic when banks begin to fail? Will unemployment insurance give confidence to business and the stock market when millions are idle and walking in the streets? Can employers be forced to employ people at a loss. In short, will these laws which businessmen and investors are counting on really work?

I am not disputing the ability of these new laws to do some good. They will relieve much suffering and encourage some consumer buying; but will they create confidence, or will they, instead, make business more fearful? NO ONE KNOWS. These "pacifiers" have not yet been tried. No true business depression has occurred since these "humanitarian" laws were enacted. My point this week is to emphasize that no one knows whether existing legislation will create confidence or increase fear.

Roger W. Babson
Reducing Stock Market
Margins

Let us consider the recent reduction of stock market margins from 70% to 50%. This was done by Washington to make it easier to buy stocks; but STOCKS are very different from FOOD. We buy food to eat; but we buy stocks to sell at a profit.

Instead of increasing confidence in stocks, this action by well-meaning Washington bureaucrats has frightened investors, who fear that the real inside conditions may be worse than the public expected. Therefore, this act, AT THIS TIME, has done more harm than good. Now what will be the effect when the various other palliatives are put into force? They will relieve hunger; but will they cause investors to buy stocks or automobiles? I don't know—and no one else knows.

What About Economic Laws?

Economic laws can be temporarily ignored; but they cannot be long ignored. Economic forces cannot be seen; but neither can electric forces be seen. Even now, no one knows what electricity is, where it comes from, why it travels, or where it goes. Yet, we all use electricity continually. Economic forces are just as powerful even though they cannot be seen. For Congress to try to ignore them is like legislating that "2 plus 2 must hereafter make 5."

Almost every Congressman believes in his heart that the present regulation of farm prices is a mistake. They believe that Secretary Benson is basically right, but they dare not say so for fear of losing the farmers' vote. What the ultimate result will be, no one knows. Some say these artificial prices will finally end our present form of government. We dare not say so because neither I nor anyone else knows.

Certainly we are SKATING ON ICE of unknown thickness. One person whom I see is very bearish; another is optimistic. We are all toying with questions to which neither Congress nor the President knows the answers. Following the depression of the Thirties, Congress enacted many "cure-alls" to relieve pain. These should work for a while in relieving hunger, warding off failures, and performing other acts of mercy; but in most cases they may serve only as mustard plasters or aspirin when our people need a change of character, almost a religious conversion. Previous depressions were allowed to last until selfishness was replaced by unselfishness; until inefficiency was replaced by efficiency; and dishonesty by honesty. Now Congress plans to bring back prosperity without restoring these fundamentals of unselfishness, efficiency, and honesty. Can this safely be done?

What Is Scientific Education?

Washington apparently thinks that Science refers only to physics and chemistry. This is a great mistake: Economics, sociology, and merchandising are sciences of equal importance. Russia can give us some great surprises along these lines, far more important than "Sputniks." A nation progresses only by a balanced education, not by going off half-cocked on one line. What will the young physicists and chemists do if we enter upon a workable disarmament program? They will be "a dime a dozen."

"The Home Paper"

To a mining town in old Virginia
Years ago, the Eagle flew;
It was like a gleam of sunshine,
To a lonely girl, homesick and blue.
So eagerly I searched its pages,
As soon as it would come;
I would search through it closely,
For news of friends and home.
I was so lonely and discontented,
The mining town was strange to me;
Though the people were so friendly,
And as kind as they could be.
Perhaps in some town or city,
A Letcher girl is lone and blue;

If so, she should read the Eagle,
On its wings I sailed through.
Mountain Eagle just keep flying,
Live true to your name;
By the Eagle soaring upward,
Was what brought to it fame.
Like the brave, hometown paper,
That flies over mountains and plains;
The Eagle is a bird of courage,
Ever, worthy of its name.
Old bird; just keep flying,
To homesick folks today;
If they are homesick and lonely,
You can cheer them on the way.
I am old, tired and lonely,
The Mountain Eagle is flying on;
I like to search its pages,
As I did in my lonely, mining home.

The Sunday School Lesson

February 2, 1958
"PRIVILEGES OF CHURCH MEMBERSHIP"
1 Peter 2:9-10;
2 Corinthians 9:6-8;
Galatians 6:1-5;
Hebrews 4:14-16; 10:23-25.
Rev. John R. Howard

"What have you to offer?" asked a man whom I approached about becoming a Christian. Taken back for a minute, (I had never had this question put to me in just this way), I began with the benefits of personal salvation and the blessings and joy of living the Christian life. This man came to Christ, together with his wife, and they two have been blessed in the faith and the life of the church for a number of years.

The first blessing that is outlined in our Scripture for being a Christian and becoming a member of the Church is that YOU ARE CHOSEN OF GOD TO BE SOMEBODY and are given a particular task to perform.

TO BE is more important than TO DO. If we BECOME something, we will DO something, because of what we ARE. A pig can't be a sheep because he is a pig. He can't act like a sheep; he can't do the function of a sheep. A pig can only be a pig because that's all he is.

When a person becomes a Christian, he is no longer a man of the flesh, condemned under the law and without hope before God. As a Christian he has become a different man, he has received a new nature, God's nature. The Holy Spirit lives in him to make him a new man. He is a Son of God and through faith in Jesus Christ has taken unto himself the character of God, the likeness of His Son, Jesus Christ.

Chosen of God, the Christian has become a member of the generation of the royal priesthood. The Christian is not only different, he now has a different office. Rather than pleasing himself, he seeks to please God. Rather than doing his own will, he seeks to do the will of God. He is a priest.

Every Christian is a priest and does the function of the royal priesthood.

A priest is one who ministers to God, serving him day and night. He is a man of prayer. He reads God's words and becomes a servant of things spiritual as well as in material things. He prays for himself and his own family and ministers in the things of the Spirit to his fellowman.

The Christian has found peace with God through Christ at Calvary and seeks to let every other man know that Christ is the Saviour, not only of his sins, but for the sins of the whole world. The priesthood of all believers is one of the great truths of the Bible and of eternity. Are we daily exercising our privileges as a priest? Are we daily seeking to lead others to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Saviour? Do we daily feed on God's word that we may be spiritually strong to feed others who will read it? Do we pray daily and seek to live so that others will see Christ in us, that they may be able to read the Bible by reading our lives and understanding our lives?

The second great privilege pointed out in our lesson is the privilege of giving. Now many think that this is not a Christian grace. Giving is one of the great joys of the Christian faith. "It is more blessed to give than to receive." The joy of giving is one of the great joys of living. Not to know how to give cheerfully is not to know the cheer of living. A Christian is always seeking to give. He seeks to give to every man something. It may be a smile, or perhaps an apple to a child; but a blessing to every man, a good word in season, a good deed to one in need. To give is to live. "For to me to live is Christ, to die is gain."

The third privilege of the member of the church is that he becomes a spiritual minister, ministering in the Spirit to others the things of Christ, seeking that both he and his fellowman may be presented faultless before the throne of His Grace. This does not mean that he becomes a fault-finder or a "holier than thou" person. Far from it. A true Christian is truly humble. He knows his own faults and finds his faith at Calvary, where SELF is crucified.

The fourth great privilege of the Christian as a church member, (every born-again man wants to be a part of the fellowship of God and of His children,) is the privilege of prayer. He has access to the Throne of Grace and the Heavenly Father at any time. The privilege of prayer is the greatest blessing that the Christian has and through it his greatest work is done. "This is the work of God that ye believe on Him whom He has sent."

Men are foolish not to pray. A Christian is always at prayer, consciously or unconsciously. He depends upon God. He seeks to know the Will of God and to do it.

The final and fifth great privilege of the church member is that of worship, of being a part of the great fellowship of believers. This is not being one with the crowd. It is being one with God. It is sharing with others who are born-again the joy and blessings of life eternal. It is the nature of a blessing that it must be shared. The joy of it, the blessing of it, becomes real when we share with others these things and they share with us in the joy of them. A blessing hoarded is not a blessing. It dies with us in our selfishness and misery. We must share our blessings with others or we lose the blessing itself.

Every born-again Christian will find joy and life eternal through sharing the blessing of his faith with others. The joy and blessing of his life will strengthen and establish by doing so. Every Christian should be a member of some church, which is a body of believers.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Added flavor and food value (vitamins) are good reasons for combining orange juice and dried apricots to sweet potatoes. In addition, a pleasing texture is given to a vegetable that normally is very compact, say food specialists at the University of Kentucky. If desired, serve the baked dish in orange-peel shells.

SWEET POTATO and APRICOT CASSEROLE

3 c cooked sweet potatoes or 1 can sweet potatoes
2 T melted butter
2 T brown sugar
1/8 t nutmeg
1/2 t salt
1 egg
1/2 c orange juice
1/2 c dried apricots, soaked and chopped

Cook sweet potatoes in their skins, then peel and mash. Add melted butter, brown sugar, nutmeg, salt and unbeaten egg. Mix well. Add apricots and orange juice. Spoon into a well-greased casserole. Bake in medium oven, 350 degrees, for 25 minutes, or until lightly browned.

MENU: Roast pork, sweet potato and apricot casserole, green beans, grapefruit-apple salad, biscuits, butter and custard pie.

School Bus Purchases By Mass Contracts Would Save Money

Letcher County schools may take part in a State Department of Education plan for pooled purchasing of school buses.

The plan will be presented to the school board at its next meeting by Supt. W. B. Hall. The meeting is set for Feb. 6. Hall attended a conference on the matter at Frankfort last week. Some 50 other superintendents also attended the meeting, which was called by Dr. Robert Martin, state superintendent of public instruction.

Martin told the superintendents that school bus purchases on a mass contract basis by the state would save school districts from $600 to $1,200 a bus.

Martin said he would like to seek bids in March on the purchase of a lot of at least 100 school buses for delivery on or after next July 1.

Hall said Letcher County probably would buy a minimum of two new buses this year. The county school board has been paying about $5,000 for a new school bus.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

I am very disappointed in your Mountain Eagle. All that is mentioned is politic stuff. You have no funnies or any interesting things kids enjoy about. Your Society News is all about one or two persons. You never mention anyone from Ermine. That is our reason for buying the paper. Also all you have is advertisements and that takes up half of a page. Gosh, why don't your staff get busy and improve the paper, it sure needs it.

I don't know if my letter will help any but anything can be improvement. I certainly think your paper needs to be PEP up quite a bit.

Your headlines aren't very much either. Surely there is a better way to make it more interesting. There also could be a "Dear Margie" or someone who understands people and their problems. That way people would write and I'm sure they would feel better and you all too. I do hope that my letter doesn't affect anyone, but if you publish this and ask people what they think—I'm sure they feel the same as I.

and I mean disappointed"

Forestry Agency Sells Seedlings

Frankfort — The Kentucky Division of Forestry grows and sells trees to farmers for timber production, erosion control, windbreaks and Christmas trees. The division prices these seedlings at about the cost of production. The cost of 1,000 seedlings, enough to plant an acre, is $7 for regular stock and $10 for Christmas tree stock.

The agency refuses to sell trees for ornamental or shade purposes, roadside or border planting within any city.

The forestry division without cost will examine planting areas, make recommendations and help farmers in ordering trees. These species are usually available: black locust, white oak, yellow popular, black walnut, loblolly pine, shortleaf pine, white pine, Scotch pine and red cedar.

The division encourages tree planting on areas not suitable for other crops to produce an income from forest products, provide wildlife shelter, protect watersheds and provide recreational facilities.

OBITUARIES

OBITUARY OF
BETSEY MAINE FUGATE

Betsey Maine Fugate was born at Salversville, Kentucky on April 17, 1898. She was the daughter of J. Wash Adams and Cornelia Webb Adams. Betsey became the wife of Elbert Fugate on September 28, 1916 and lived with him 41 years in their home at Mayking. They were the parents of seven children—Lillian, Eugene, Elbert, Jr., Nancy Jane, Cornelia Hope, Mattie Lou and Sally Elizabeth.

She joined the First Baptist Church of Whitesburg on April 21, 1955 and was baptized on May 1, 1955. She departed this life on January 14, 1958 at one o'clock, being at that time a patient in the Whitesburg Memorial Hospital, having reached the age of 59 years, 8 months and 28 days.

She is mourned by her husband, Elbert, her children, nine grandchildren, two brothers, Dr. Wiley J. Adams of Oklahoma City, Col. Marcus W. Adams of Fort Benning, Ga., and three sisters: Mrs. Ida Honeycutt, Fall Branch, Tenn., Mrs. C. J. West of Princeton, W. Va., and Miss Gladys Adams of Paducah, Ky.

Betsey was an active worker in all community affairs, and was interested in, and participated in all projects pertaining to the school, the Homemakers Club, Sunday School and the churches. Her friendly smile shed sunshine on all her friends and neighbors wherever she met them. Betsey will be missed by all her neighbors and friends, and she had many for truly "to know her was to love her."

The emptiness she has left in the lives of her husband and children can never be filled, but we have the promise of the Savior that some day a grand and glorious reunion will be held at the throne of God, and by His saving Grace we may all be present.

Death, with all its sting, is the only key which can open the door between the physical life with its pleasures and pains and the eternal life with its untold joys. If one is to enter the Pearly Gates of the Holy City, to look upon its jasper walls and to walk upon the streets of gold, he must pass through the door of death, but the great glory is that the radiant light from the Lamb of God will brighten his pathway forever.

Mother, we now leave you in the loving arms of our Saviour with the glad promise that we shall meet again where sorrow, death and pain never come. Yes, Mother, we know that you are not dead, just asleep in the arms of Jesus, so we would say to you today, "Sleep on, Mother, sleep on. We know the family Circle is broken here, but by the Grace of God we are looking forward to having a glorious reunion of our family in the Glory-Land, in a land where there is nothing but joy, peace and happiness throughout all the ages of eternity."

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Betsey Maine Fugate wish to express their appreciation to the many friends who comforted them in their time of sorrow. The agony of the loss of a loved one was soothed by the balm of kind words and the beauty of many flowers. The gratitude of a broken-hearted husband and a grieving family is hard to express in mere words.

The wife and the mother has set her feet upon the path of glory which leads to the Eternal Kingdom. Her steps are a beacon which those who loved her will faithfully follow for the promise of the Savior has been made and will be kept.

To those who mourned with us, we give thanks. Their words, their presence, their acts of kindness will long be remembered.

—Elbert Fugate and Family.

At Woman's Club

It is wise to know and keep traffic laws, State Trooper Otis Anderson pointed out in a talk pertaining to safety on the highways at the meeting of the Whitesburg Woman's Club held at the home of Mrs. Stephen Combs Jr., Jan. 25.

Trooper Anderson discussed the duties of the Kentucky State Police in helping to make the highways safe and basic rules the driver must observe. Outstanding facts he discussed dealt with insurance, the finance and responsibility law, the point system and the rigid examination new drivers must undergo. He commended the Whitesburg police department for assistance given him toward helping make Letcher County highways safe.

Mr. Anderson was introduced by Miss Danola Fields, the program chairman.

Mrs. Zenneth Bentley, the spiritual life leader, read from I Corinthians and led the club collect which was repeated in unison by the club members.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Trooper sang "Tea for Two." They were accompanied by Mrs. Albert Jones at the piano.

During the business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. Harry Caudill, a report on the Letcher County Library was made by Mrs. A. F. Judd. She pointed out the many needs of the library. After her talk the group voted to make a drive for books, and many agreed to donate magazines for the bookmobile which serves the county. A drive for money to buy new books was discussed.

Games were played and refreshments were served.

Present were 13 members and three new members, Anna Laura Caudill, Adrienne Goode and Gayle Webb; also present were counselors, Mrs. Loyd McMillan, Mrs. Don Downing and Mrs. Riley Little.

Again I would like to repeat what a huge success our much publicized K.P.L. (Knott, Perry, and Letcher County) picnic held at Madison Heights, Mich., turned out to be. Plans are now being made for a much bigger, and better picnic this coming year. It was heartwarming to see friends meet again who had been separated for many years, some of them since childhood. So that our 1958 meeting will meet its expected success, I would like for everyone in Knott, Perry, and Letcher County having friends or relatives living in or around Detroit and Michigan to please send their names and addresses to:
